

SEX, ETC. // 06/22/17

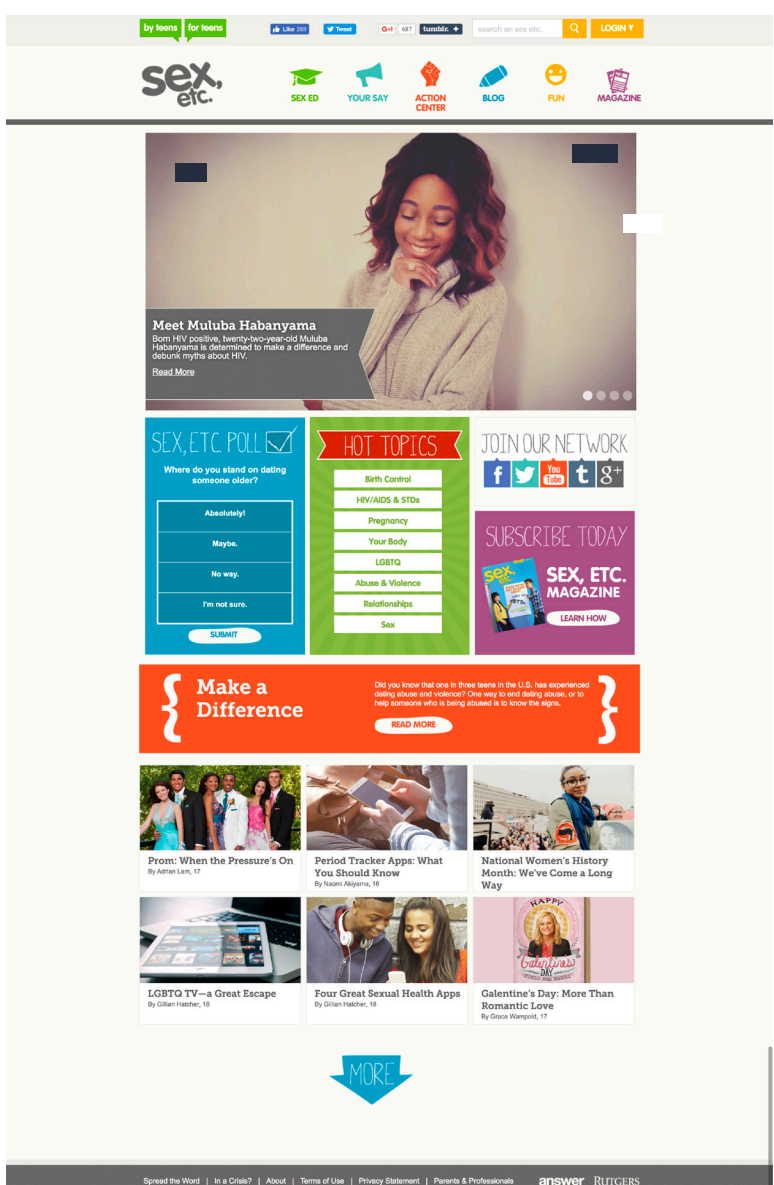

An American website where articles about sexual health are written by teens for other teens.

PROS

- Website is colorful, eye-catching, attractive, and gender-neutral
- Displaying the stories of other teens on the main page makes the website more personable
- The poll is fun and entertaining because you can see the results
- Hot topics are displayed in a fun manner

CONS

- The "More" button only loads the next three articles
- Website borders on too busy because of all of the colors, so it might be hard to find something specific
- Subscription is to magazine only

HEALTH.COM // 06/22/17

A comprehensive Khmer website with a lot of different information about health.

PROS

- Comprehensive information about health
- Seems to be one of the biggest providers of health information

CONS

- Hard to find specific information; no search bar, categories are not specific enough
- Blue does not work well as a background color; other colors from ads do not look good

SABAY NEWS // 06/23/17

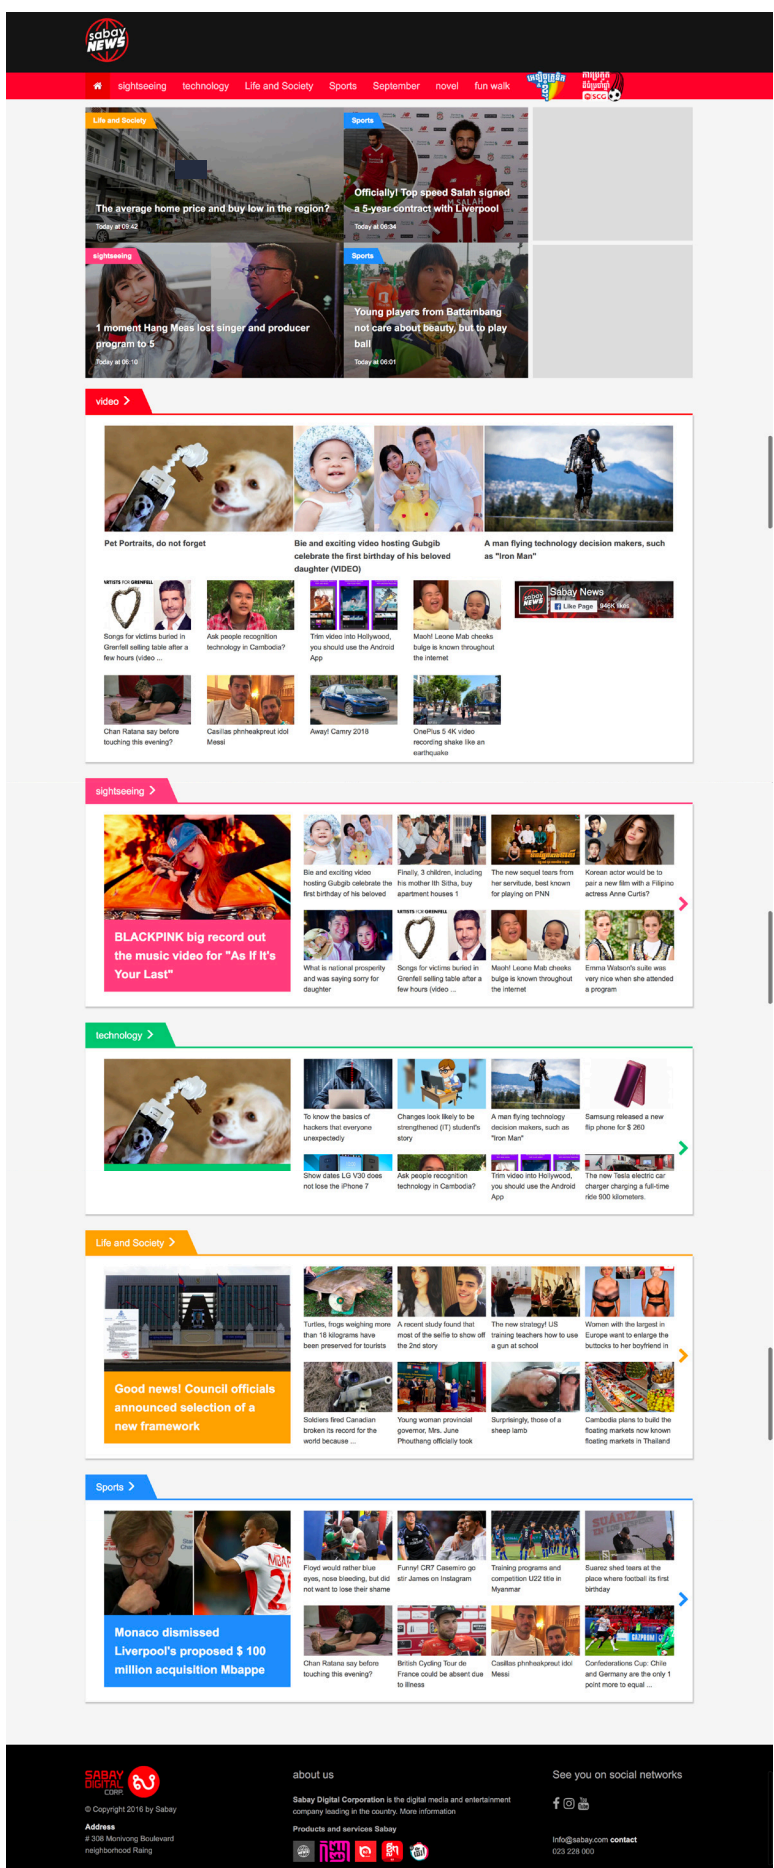

A more modern news site with information geared towards younger folks.

PROS

- Clean user interface
- Has topics that are geared more towards younger locals: sightseeing, technology, life and society, sports, September?, novel, fun walk
- Website is responsive to mobile view

CONS

- While the website is clean, it borders on boring
- Infinite scroll prevents you from seeing the website footer in category pages
- Colors used for categories are not reflected elsewhere in the website

WEB CHLAAT // 06/23/17

A website geared for children to give them tips about internet safety.

PROS

- Fun user interface
- Attractive cartoon visuals for youth
- Responsive to mobile

CONS

- Website first loads in English
- Website gives off a foreign feel
- Background is a bit too distracting from the content
- Seems like an overkill just to host 7 tips for children and a quiz, especially when the tips are just listed in paragraphs
- Quiz layout is boring and not engaging
